

SYLVANITE CLAIMS SHIPS ORE WITH GOOD PROFIT

SYLVANITE, Ariz., Nov. 13.—The start three-fourths of a mile from the sensational strike was made in the broken jag claim has already shipped four cars of ore to Douglas which have yielded handsome profits. The other properties of the camp are being the ore sacked preparatory to shipping to the smelters.

Four men are engaged on the Sky prospect claim, bonded by the Sylvanite Development Company, in clearing away the face of the mountain preparatory to the sinking of a shaft. In the hand car claim under the management of the same company three men are at work getting things in shape to run a tunnel on the ledge which will cut the vein at a depth of about 200 feet at the deepest point. No ore is being sacked as yet, although plenty of ore is found right at the surface.

A popular subscription has been taken up looking towards the erection of a public building to be used for garage purposes. A garbage wagon has been sent for and a sanitary inspector appointed. The people propose to have the sanitary regulations strictly enforced in order that the typhoid fever that usually visits camps of this nature, may be avoided. Pure water is now to be had in abundance at the Bennett & Clark well, which has been deepened and a pump installed. Water is now being distributed about the town from a five hundred gallon tank and retails at the price of $1 per barrel.

Hotel accommodations are getting better. One landlord, although located in only a tent, can furnish nicely carpeted rooms with excellent furnishings for his guests. The prices range from $1.50 up while meals can be had as low as 25 cents each, although the most popular price is 50 cents.

Wm. Truxis is building a two-story frame hotel building and Steve Aguirre is planning the erection of a general merchandise store, in fact is now clearing the ground preparatory to building. Lumber can now be had on the grounds, where Mr. Flickinger is in charge of the lumber yard owned by the Bassett Lumber Company of El Paso.

Editor Densmore of the El Paso Mining Journal and W. A. Stewart, representing McClure's magazine, are now at the camp making a thorough inspection of conditions in the interest of their publications.

Miner and Zane of Bisbee have obtained a lease on the Hillside No. 1 claim of Doctor Johnson and William McDonald, locators.

To Charles Allen, deputy sheriff, has been assigned the task of looking after lawbreakers. L. L. Miner of the Copper Queen medical staff is sanitary inspector with full power to enforce the regulations.

FORESTRY RULING

STRENGTHENS SERVICE

The national forestry department, commencing December 1, will be divided into six districts with district headquarters in each section. The order establishing the districts has been issued by Gifford Pinchot, chief forester, with instructions to forest supervisors and those connected with the service that all business will on and after that date be transacted through the district offices instead of through the general office at Washington, D. C.

Speaking of the change to a Journal-Miner man yesterday, Supervisor Hinderer of the Prescott National Forest ventured the opinion that the new order would result beneficially to the service.

"It will bring those having business with the department nearer the authorities and will expedite the transaction of business, especially when an appeal is taken from the decision of a supervisor. The long distance from Washington causes a delay in correspondence which will be eliminated to a great extent by the establishment of the district headquarters. Moreover, it will relieve the Washington officers of a large amount of routine work and give them a chance to spend more time in the field, thereby increasing the efficiency of the forest service."

District No. 1 embraces Montana, North Dakota and North Wyoming, with headquarters in Missoula, Montana, W. B. Greely, forester in charge.

District No. 2 comprises Colorado, South Dakota and a small strip of eastern Utah, with headquarters in Denver, Smith Riley, forester in charge.

District No. 3 includes Arizona, New Mexico, Oklahoma and Arkansas, with headquarters in Albuquerque, A. C. Ringland, forester in charge.

District No. 4 is composed of Central and Western Utah, southern Idaho, southern Wyoming and eastern Nevada, with headquarters in Ogden, Utah, Clyde Leavitt, forester in charge.

District No. 5 includes California and western Nevada, with headquarters in San Francisco, F. E. Olmstead, forester in charge.

John D. Guthrie, deputy supervisor of Prescott National Forest, has been promoted to the position of supervisor of the Apache forest. He left yesterday afternoon for Springville to assume the duties of his new position.

Guthrie is the sixth attaché of the Prescott forest promoted to the position of forest supervisor in the last two and a half years. The others who have been similarly honored are Marshall, Kneipp, Porter, Hinderer, Wilson and Zachau. This record of promotions is unprecedented in the history of the department. The business of the Prescott National Forest is said to be more diversified than any of the other national forests, which assists materially in equipping the attachés for higher positions.

The HOG is not a Cleanly Animal

Did you know that nine-tenths of the lard you buy is made from "any old" part of the hog, according to the public admission of the leading lard packer? Why, then, under the sun will people who are otherwise particular about their food continue to eat lard-soaked dishes? No matter how temptingly they are prepared, if they contain lard they are sure to cause future trouble.

Cottolene is not only purer than lard, being a vegetable product containing no hog fat, but it is more economical, more palatable, more wholesome.

If you care for your health you cannot afford to longer take chances with lard.

COTTOLENE is Guaranteed Your grocer is hereby authorized to refund your money in case you are not pleased, after having given Cottolene a fair test.

Never Sold in Bulk Cottolene is packed in pails with an airtight top to keep it clean, fresh and whole-some, and prevent it from catching dust and absorbing disagreeable odors, such as fish, oil, etc.
